IAALV Holi Food Festival

The annual IAALV Food Festival is coming up fast. Plan to attend this fun event on April 21st. It will be held at our traditional spot, the Fullerton

Smiling and ready to serve at the 2006 Food Festival

Memorial Hall behind the Toys R' Us in Whitehall. The fun starts at 11.30 am and continues until 3.30pm.

Join us and eat freshly prepared items from our Lehigh Valley cooks. Come early and spend the afternoon sampling tastes from all over India.

The theme for this years festival is Holi. Booths will be decorated in the colors of Holi and one table will be filled with various sweets traditional to the celebration.

As in previous years, we will have a basket raffle each hour. T-shirts will be available and tickets for the upcoming Ghulam Ali concert will be on sale.

The Brown Band, a local group of young musicians and singers will perform Indian songs at 12.30 and 1.30pm. These children were a favorite at past shows.

Interested in having a table?

At last count, there were still a few tables left. All vendors must be paid members of IAALV. Contact Neha Laud for more information:

rendering of the ghazal.

Ghulam Ali is the most versatile ghazal singer ever. Listeners are always left breathless and spellbound as Ghulam Ali unlocks the eternity of emotions that run through his exquisite

The hallmark of Ghulam Ali's style is his mastery over classical music and perfect understanding of the ghazal. The result -- timeless compositions like Hungama kyon hai barpa, Chupke Chupke, Dil mein ek lahar si uthi hai abhi, Mehfil mein baar baar usi par nazar gayeen, Kal Chaudavin ki raat thi, to name only a few. His incomparable rendition of the ghazal through his pioneering style, coupled with his impeccable voice, carries even the most disinterested listener to a height where sheer ecstasy
